Character	Name:	Kastala	the	Scarred

Player Name

Character Type: Human

Pride: Foresight

Archetype: Psyker

Character History: Kastala grew up in one of the the warring tribes of the feral world of locanthos in the Calixis Sector. An orphan, she barely survived as an unwanted outcast. However, early in life she learned she could sense a blow's impact just before it hit. Kastala stopped avoiding the beatings from the tribe's warriors. Though this earned her many scars, it also honed her power until she could dodge any blow. The warriors' derision turned to awe, then terror when she began summoning vicious bolts of darkness to consume any who dared raise a hand against her. Kastala rose from outcast to avatar of destruction, carving a bloody swath through Iocanthos before being noticed and captured by the Inquisition. Failing: Wrath Motivation: Ascendancy

PLAYING KASTALA THE SCARRED

Kastala is a quiet woman, but prone to violent rage when threatened. Her most notable feature is her singular force of will, which since her earliest memories is bent towards survival. Of course, now she has tasted the gifts the warp has to offer, and knows that true survival can only be found in its embrace. She wants to live long enough to grow in power, until nothing can destroy her.

Kastala has no qualms about working with others. However, if they ever threaten her, she'll burn them down immediately.

GEAR

Flak vest, psy-grounding rig (When rolling the 1d10 for suffering Psychic Phenomena, the rig reduces the result by 1 to a minimum of 1. Kastala does not begin play with this gear).

TALENTS AND SPECIAL RULES

Psyker: Kastala is a psyker, able to manifest warp-spawned powers. In the Black Crusade Core Rulebook, psychic powers have a more thorough ruleset. However, a simplified version is presented here. Kastala has a Psy Rating of 4. This affects the potency of her powers and is already included in the power profiles.

When manifesting a power, Kastala must spend the requisite time (listed under Action) and make a Focus Power Test. She adds +20 to this Test (from her Psy Rating), and success means the power succeeds. In addition, if she rolls doubles (a result of 11, 22, 33, 00, etc.) she temporarily loses control and suffers Psychic Phenomena—rolling an additional 1d10. On a 1-5 she loses a Half Action during the next Round. On a 6-10 she and everyone within 3 metres suffer 1d5 wounds ignoring armour and Toughness Bonus. (This replaces the Perils of the warp and Psychic Phenomena rules found in the actual game). Powers may be used in melee.

PSYCHIC POWERS

Name: Doombolt Range: 80m Action: Half Action

Focus Power Test: Challenging (+0) Willpower Test

Subtype: Attack, Concentration

Kastala summons corrosive bolts of roiling dark energy. If she succeeds on her Focus Power Test, she hits her target once, plus once per every two additional Degrees of Success. Hits deal 1d10+4 damage with 8 Pen.

Name: Precognitive Dodge Range: Self Action: Reaction

Focus Power Test: Difficult (-10) Perception Test

Subtype: Concentration

Kastala dodges by seeing the future. If Kastala takes an Evasion Action, she may use this power instead. If the power is successful, she avoids the attack in exactly the same way as if she passed a Dodge Test (including additional Degrees of Success negating additional hits from the attack).
